

ROSTER OF GENERALS.

The Men Who Led the Confederates in Battle.

SIXTY-FIVE WERE KILLED

Only Eighty-seven of the Noble Galaxy Are Now Among the Living.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—It is for the first time possible to publish a list, very nearly, if not absolutely, correct, and complete, of all the general officers of the army of the Confederacy. General Marcus J. Wright, of the Confederate Records Division, of the War Department, has been for a long period engaged in the preparation of this list, and he has at last completed his work. He believes it to be correct, or very nearly so, but he is perfectly willing to accept corrections, indeed, he would be glad to have ex-Confederate soldiers transmit information relating to general officers of the Confederacy, whose names do not appear in this list, and to correct any inaccuracies which do appear. It is remarkable that while thirty-nine years have elapsed since the fall of the Confederacy there has never before been a complete list of the general officers of the Confederate army printed. It has been a work of great magnitude to compile the list printed below. General Wright has had to write hundreds of letters to old soldiers and others located in all sections of the country and has to make researches of other character in order to obtain the data for the roster.

It is shown that the Confederate army was commanded by 47 general officers, including brigadier, major, and lieutenant generals, and colonels.

Of this number sixty-five were killed in battle, eleven died from wounds received in battle, making a total of seventy-six general officers who lost their lives during the war.

The roster shows that 23 general officers of the Confederate army have died since the war, and that eighty-seven are still living. But the reader may make his own recapitulation.

HAVE THEM COME OUR WAY.

You have eaten of our bread, pies and cakes and found them "just the thing." Why don't you spread the good tidings among your neighbors who don't know just how capital our products are? Don't have to? No, but wouldn't you like to post you when they struck a good thing? Play fair and speak a good word for L. Bromm's bread.

Light Work for a Thousand Ladies

If there is an electric wire anywhere near your house, we will send an expert workman and then all that you'll have to do when you want the lights hot on wash-day, the curling tongs right, the chafing dish ready, the kettle to boil, will be to press the button. Why, we have even a button by the bed and you can throw a light on the clock in the dead of night, and all the time and return to your slumbers. But there are so many electrical devices made now at a
